DEDICATION

We dare to call him "Jake," but only out of great respect and love. Perhaps no figure on the Maryland State College campus commands the affection of the student body as does "Jake." For nearly a quarter of a century he has served the college as Professor of Languages, and until his accident in April, 1965, as Director of Public Relations and Placement.

After six months of recuperation, "Jake" has returned to campus and can once again be seen making his way among his familiar haunts. A man of less energy might still be bedridden, but not "Jake."

A resident of near-by Camden and a native of Panama, the nationally known sports-writer and enthusiast is especially respected on the Eastern Shore. Having gradually regained his strength through the year, "Jake" is again his vigorous young self and is always ready to give vital information on most areas, art or athletic. Any moment with "Jake" is most rewarding. Ask him one day about the "C" Formation!

The energetic educator has always taken the betterment of MSC as his predominant theme, and the college is a finer institution because of his efforts. We wish that many future classes will benefit, as we did, from "Jake's" contagious good humor and friendly wisdom.

MEMORIAM

Dr. I. Gregory Newton
-1965
Dean of the College
1964-1965

From too much love of living,
From hope and fear set free,
We thank with brief Thanksgiving
Whatever Gods may be
That no man lives forever,
That dead men rise up never;
That even the weariest river
Winds somewhere safe to sea.

The Garden of Proserphine
Algernon Charles Swinburne

Although he was with us for only a brief hour, he gave us the thought that we too might touch excellence.

FROM ORIENTATION TO GRADUATION

An old Indian story has it thus:

When we are glorious in our childish innocence, before we have met the world on its terms, all appears celestial, even as Wordsworth has said. Rivers are rivers, trees are trees, and mountains are mountains.

When we have gained a certain substance of knowledge and again meet the world, sure, certain, contained, we are stunned at the sight and made dumb. Trees are no longer trees, nor are rivers still rivers, nor mountains simply mountains.

However, we are told (again as Wordsworth has said, the child is father of the man) that when that middle darkness is passed, the spiritual glory suddenly reappears, and rivers are seen again to be rivers, trees once again are trees and mountains, still mountains.

So it is that much of our sojourn here has been clouded by our loss of innocence and lack of knowledge. Yet we have gained the middle ground and have had glimpses of glory beyond.

ALMA MATER

To thee, Dear Alma Mater,
We raise our grateful song,
For through thy noble teachings
Thou has made thy children strong;
And thousand still shall praise thee,
All earth shall hear their swell,
And bind our hearts yet closer
To thee we love so well.

We love thy spacious campus,
We love thy towering halls,
And hallow'd are the lessons
We've learned within thy walls.
Stand thou forever glorious,
Full-robed in living green;
Shine thou in endless splendor
Beneath thy trees serene.

Refrain

Maryland, Maryland, Home of Maroon and Gray;
Maryland, Maryland, Thee we love always.
All hail to thee, Fair Maryland,
All glory be to thee!
Grow thou in strength and honor
Through all eternity!
